Location

Henley Fort is located on the Hog's Back high above Guildford and is a Victorian Fort built during the late 19th Century to protect London from invasion by the French. It was later used by the Home Guard in World War 2 as a re-supply depot. It is now an outdoor education facility offering groups a chance to take part in challenging activities or a living historical experience in a stunning and authentic setting.

Location

Parents will need to drop children off at Wodeland Avenue.

Parent car share is advised if possible.

Members of the team will support children to walk across the field to the centre.

Yurts

Yurts

Each yurt has been traditionally and ethically made by experienced craftsman in Mongolia, including beautifully painted roof beams and front door for an authentic look and feel.

Cool in the summer and warm in the winter months, each yurt has four layers of traditional materials to keep it watertight - breathable but ultimately comfortable all year round.

Each yurt sleeps between 8 and 12 people in sturdy bunk beds, has several bean bags, hanging storage, internal rope lighting and a heater for the cooler months. There is also a marquee available in the Yurt Village for groups to meet during free time. Female and male toilets and showering facilities are next to the village.

Outdoor experiences and activities

All activities are delivered by qualified and experienced outdoor education instructors.

Activities available at Henley Fort include: adventure/night walks, archery, canal boating, canoeing, challenge course, climbing and abseiling/bouldering, mountain biking, orienteering, team tasks and woodland skills.

Activities

'Happy, healthy children through outdoor learning'

Surrey Outdoor Learning & Development is committed to achieving positive personal development through outdoor experiences that challenge the mind and body. Through these outdoor experiences, we guide participants to discover more about themselves by learning and developing personal, social, emotional, physical and key skills

Learning outcomes

Defining the aim of your group's visit is very important.

As their leader we work with you to specify their learning outcomes you wish them to achieve during their visit.

These could include:

- Involvement
- Setting goals
- Broaden horizons
- Development
- Self-awareness
- Confidence
- Coordination
- Fitness
- Communication
- Leadership
